OUT & ABOUT

SMALL-CAT SAFARI

As safaris go, tracking endangered snow leopards in the mountains of Mongolia, sleeping in the gers of local tribes, and traveling in the company of World Wildlife Fund biologists define ambition. Nomadic Expeditions' new 16-day trip to western Mongolia's remote highlands gives five intrepid travelers the chance to stalk the shy cats on two- to six-hour daily hikes at upwards of 8,000 feet. Departure: November 15; from $15,900.
